

(1) The Japanese school calendar runs from April to March. However, since one of the requirements for students entering G10 is that they have completed G9, we allow September enrollment.

(2) After the final baccalaureate examinations are completed in December of G12, students may obtain a Japanese high school diploma and a baccalaureate degree. Graduation is in March of the following year, but students may return to their home countries after the end of December if they wish.

(1) Due to differences in the school calendar, students may enroll in April after they have experienced G10 in Hawaii for about six months.

(2) After the final baccalaureate examinations are completed in December of G12, students may obtain a Japanese high school diploma and a baccalaureate degree. Graduation is in March of the following year, but students may return to their home countries after the end of December if they wish.
